End of School Party

I can't believe we are almost through with this school year! Wow it definitely flew by... and I get emotional when I think about how I only have your babies with me for a few more months. That just means we will have to have the best summer ever!

With the end of the school year comes a party! On Thursday, May 22nd, to celebrate the Awesome year we have had, we will have snacks, tattoos, crafts and of course the bounce house!

On this day please send your kiddo in clothes that can get dirty, and shoes that are easy for them to slip on by themselves.

LETS PARTY!
